MIAMI (AP) — An American Airlines crew planned to bring home today the last of a trio of airplanes—two of them American—hijacked to Cuba within 24 hours.

A red-haired woman who used her 12-year-old son as an interpreter was identified as one of the hijackers, a Mexican pilot said his plane was commandeered by four men trying to avenge a slain guerrilla leader, and the third sky pirate apparently was just a man with a gun.

The American Airlines Boeing 727 hijacked by the gunman remained overnight in Havana after leaving Miami off its scheduled flight to New York City. The plane was taken to New York's Kennedy Airport and departed for Havana with its crew of seven.

Enita Owen, a 30-year-old Chicago woman, said the hijacker was a clean-cut man about 35.

"He was sitting in my seat," she said, when she boarded in Chicago. "After I told him, he moved to the opposite aisle and said he was very sorry."

An airline spokesman said the diversion was done "in a subdued manner."

The second plane to be hijacked was a Delta Airlines jet on a Chicago-Miami flight. Crew members said a Spanish-speaking woman accompanied by her young son pulled a gun from her purse soon after a stop at Atlanta.

Stewardess Judy Waininger said the boy, carrying an armload of toys, followed his mother into the jet's cockpit and translated her command for a trip to Havana to the pilot.

The plane flew to Miami Monday night with 94 passengers and a crew of six after a stay of about 12 hours in Havana.

Capt. Antonio Chavez Guizar flew home to Mexico City Monday night, ending a trip that started over the resort island of Cozumel on Sunday night.

Capt. Chavez said his plane, carrying 95 persons, was hijacked by three Brazilians and a Mexican. The pilot said the quartet told him they were striking back at Mexican authorities for the killing of Guatemalan guerrilla leader Jose Antonio Yon Sosa and the army slaying of some students in Mexico City Oct. 2, 1962.

The Mexican government said an army patrol killed Sosa May 16.

Real Estate Transfer Tax Challenged

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Supreme Court Monday took under consideration a suit challenging the constitutionality of the real estate transfer tax (Act 239 of 1969).

Former Little Rock Mayor Martin Borchert, a building supply dealer, originally challenged the act but state Sen. Virgil T. Fletcher intervened on his side.

State Rep. Tabler Field Jr. of Hope, attorney representing Fletcher, told the court Monday that "all sorts of repercussions would arise" if Act 239 is held unconstitutional.

The act levies a tax of $1.50 per $500 on all real estate transfers above $100. Revenues could go to the counties where the sale occurred, to the Arkansas Children's Colony and the state Parks Recreation and Travel Commission.

The act states that funds from the tax may be used for general operations or for capital improvements.

Field contended that voters must approve a bond issue under Amendment 20 to the state Constitution before the funds could be used for capital improvements by any of the state agencies.

The court is expected to hand down a ruling by June 29, the day it recesses for the summer.

Crackdown Nears for Swiss Banks

By EDMOND LARBITON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation intended to make secret foreign bank accounts less attractive to criminals and tax dodgers is on the way to the Senate—with some paperwork provisions still in dispute.

Through the bill passed unanimously Monday, 302-0, the Nixon administration, with some congressional support, argues certain features would be too burdensome to U.S. banks and businesses.

The disputed provisions would require banks to photocopy all checks of $500 or more, and any person or firm with foreign bank accounts to keep detailed records.

But the House was more moved by arguments that quick action is needed to check the use of the foreign banks by persons hiding money, squirreling away "skim" profits from gambling casinos, dodging U.S. income tax or getting around the limits on securities by buying on margin.

In addition to the record-keeping provisions, the bill would hit at courier transfers of cash abroad by requiring reports of such movements in excess of $5,000 at a time or $10,000 in a year.

It would authorize the Federal Reserve Board to make regulations aimed at the use of foreign bank credit for securities purchases.

Penalties provided in the bill range from $1,000 civil assessments to $500,000 fine and five years imprisonment in major criminal cases.

While secret accounts are largely associated in general discussion with Swiss banks, Chairman Wright Patman, D-Tex., of the House Banking Committee, told the House there are now about 25 countries with secrecy provisions.

This is why, he said, even successful conclusion of present treaty negotiations with the Swiss would not solve the problem.

Soviet Loses Advisers in Mideast War

WASHINGTON (AP) — A limited number of Soviet advisers have been killed or wounded in Israeli raids into Egypt, knowledgeable sources report, and whether more may be hit depends on the Soviet Union.

The sources warned more Russian deaths and injuries may occur, if the Soviet Union decides to move surface-to-air missiles (SAM) and Russian pilots into the Suez Canal area.

Presently, the sites and Russian-piloted planes are in the Egyptian interior, away from what Israel considers to be the combat zone.

Soviet crews man the SAM installations.

The exact number of Russian casualties is secret, if known at all. But the total is said by informants to be small.

Congressman Hammerschmidt invited persons with federal-related problems to contact Lantz during this visit.

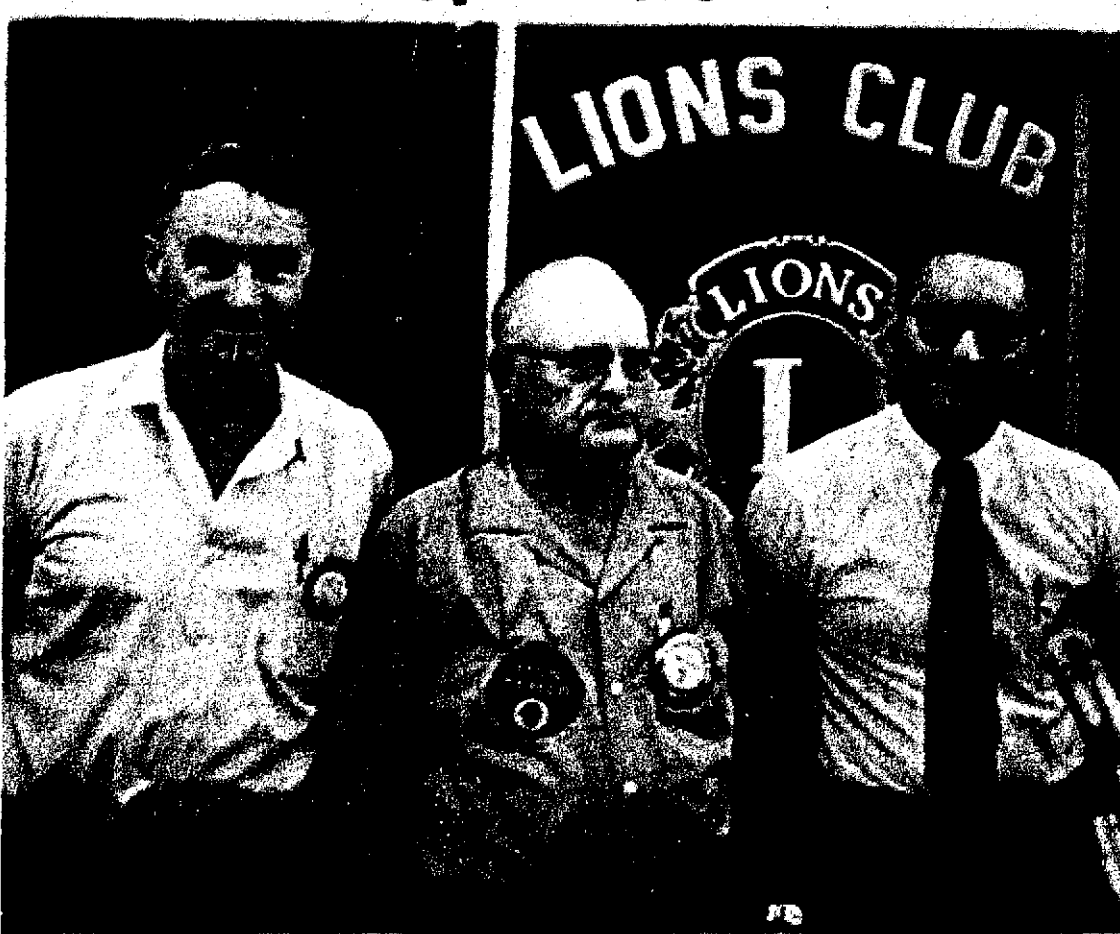

Southern State Gets Grant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. David Pryor, D-Ark., said today the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has approved a $85,131 grant for implementation of an education talent search program at Southern State College in Magnolia.

SSC is one of 48 colleges and universities to receive an award under the program, which was authorized by Congress in 1965.

The grant will be used to initiate talent searches designed to identify and counsel students on further educational training, to publicize information on available financial aid and educational opportunities and to encourage high school and college dropouts to reenter educational programs.

At the weekly meeting of the Hope Lions Club, Monday, at the Town & Country, local members brought the program.

A panel program on Lionism was presented by program chairman, Cecil O'Steen.

Lion Haskell Jones gave a short talk on service clubs and included history in the state and the local club.

Don Frael gave an account of the club's main project, sight conservation and Lion Arthur Wimmell gave a report on the recent state convention with the emphasis on how a club should be governed and managed to be successful.

He said about the President's war-making powers.

"What about our own powers?" Mansfield asked. "What are we doing for these men?"

He said the administration now appears to be signaling indefinite U.S. support of South Vietnamese troops inside Cambodia.

"Disaster is overtaking us," Church said. "... American mothers cannot produce enough sons."

FBI Moves in on Cuba 'Invaders'

By BOB M. GASSAWAY
Associated Press Writer

MIAMI (AP) — FBI agents have raided the headquarters of a militantly anti-Castro group—13 days after a high-level U.S. government decision that exile raids on Cuba must stop.

Six FBI agents armed with search warrants in Spanish and English raided the raid Monday on the offices of the group, called Alpha 66, in the Little Havana section of Miami.

The FBI would not comment on the action.

Diego Medina, press officer for Alpha 66, said the agents apparently were looking for guns and ammunition but found none. Medina said they seized some water canteens, military-type belts and some papers.

Two upper echelon federal officials were in Miami May 13 to pass word among exile groups that the U.S. government will henceforth strictly enforce its neutrality laws.

Federal law forbids use of United States territory to launch military expeditions against a foreign country.

"We have violated no law. Our expeditions set out from soil outside the United States," Medina said.

He added that the FBI search would not hamper his group: "This is our political office, not our military office."

A government source said the decision to clamp down on Cuban exile raids against their island homeland was made at a Washington meeting May 13.

He said part of the reasoning is that the attacks are ineffective and provide grist for Fidel Castro's propaganda mill.

WILL HUNGER STRIKE CURE BATTLING PARENTS?

Dear Helen: You suggested that kids tape-record parents' fights, so they could hear how they sound. I don't have a re-corder—or the nerve—but if my folks don't stop fighting con-stantly, I'll go out of my tree.

When they aren't screaming and yelling, they're cutting on each other in the meanest way. And I end up in my bedroom with a pillow over my head. My brother and sisters are about to go crazy too.

Would a hunger strike help? We could tell them we won't eat until they learn to get along.—CLOSE TO AN ULCER

Dear CTAU: Perhaps a bigger help: When your parents start with the screams and yells, all of you children might get up quietly and walk of the house. And if this happens during din-ner (as fights often do), so much the better. A modified hunger strike isn't so rough on your constitution.

Chronic battlers need shock treatment to break the cycle—which often develops more from habit than hate. A suddenly empty room could speak louder than ultimatums.—H.

Dear Helen: My parents are really nice but they can't seem to understand why I sometimes giggle when they scold me. Why can't parents understand that when something strikes a teen-ager funny, she has to laugh or burst? I'm not making fun of them— it's just that they're kind of out of character when they're mad.

I respect what they say, 'cause we're good friends, but some-times Mom especially is just plain funny when she gets indig-nant. I'm really laughing because I appreciate her performance.

Do other kids have this trou-ble too? Giggling at the wrong moment?—G.S.

Dear C: Yes, other kids have this trouble, but if you giggle RIGHT at the wrong moment chances are your parents will end up laughing with you—at themselves; and you'll ALL gain more from the encounter. Of course this only works for people who are "kind of out of

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — ABC's "Now" series of shortdocumen-taries on Monday night took a quick but eminently fair look at the women's liberation move-ment.

A lot of the news about the "unfinished revolution of Ameri-can women"—as narrator Mar-lene Sanders called it—has fo-cused on bizarre antics of the most militant and radical of the feminist groups. This half hour went to the core of women's dis-content and may have even made some converts.

The program opened with shots of coeds performing satir-ic skits showing woman's place and singing a dirge about "bet-ter be dead than not to be wed."

Miss Sanders noted that the "rhetoric is often strident," and made a comparison between the struggle for sexual equality with the struggle for racial equality. But certainly the emotional talk of being exploited as sexobjects and the sight of a bunch of women wolf-whistling at male passersby did not improve the female image.

More impressive were scenes showing serious groups of wom-en taking self-protective judo lessons in "learning to discard their roles as victims" or dem-onstrating for the abolition or reform of abortion laws.

The program was most effec-tive in pinpointing discrimina-tion in pay and opportunities for careers. Woman's lib obviously is more than a fad and seems to be worthy of more detailed and serious treatment by television.

Even if, as Miss Sanders sug-gests, it makes men feel threat-ened, it is a part of the times, she wound up the program with a telling thrust: "It's a man's world—and just look at it. Move over, gentlemen. Maybe you could use some help."

CBS originally announced that Glen Campbell's July and Au-gust replacement would be a comedy hour called "Rap." The program's title has now been of-ficially changed to "Comedy To-Night."

The new title, while hardly electrifying, may be more pre-cise than the original. "To rap" in current youth-jargon means —approximately—to converse. The hip, young crowd might have believed that the program was still another of the talk shows.

Titles really don't mean much in TV. Does any member of the viewing audience really call it "The Glen Campbell Goodtime Hour"?

Now NBC has decided to call one of its summer replacements "Andy Williams Presents the Ray Stevens Show?" In the first place the two question marks look like a typographical error and probably won't be used.

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — With the Indianapolis 500 still five days away, the experts around Gasoline Alley already have tabbed Al Unser and A.J. Foyt favorites to win auto racing's richest prize.

Unser, 31, put his Colt-turbocharged Ford on the pole with a four-lap speed of 170.221 miles per hour. Foyt, 35, a three-time winner, starts on the outside of the front row after qualifying at 170.034 m.p.h.

There are 31 other cars in the field, four of them manned by rookies. The average qualifying speed of the 33 starters was 165.373.

A panel of four veteran observers of the Memorial Day classic was asked to rate the field and the chances of each driver, including the rookies, to win.

There is no pari-mutuel betting in auto racing, but if there were, the consensus of the panel would rate Unser and Foyt at 2 to 1 over the field. Roger McCluskey, who has the inside second row spot, was the only driver rated at 3 to 1.

There were two drivers rated at 4 to 1, Mark Donohue and the 1968 winner Bobby Unser, while last year's champion Mario Andretti was placed at 6 to 1, probably because he has a completely new and untried car.

Johnny Rutherford, the other front row qualifier at 170.213 m.p.h., was rated 7 to 1.

Here is the way the field, in the order in which they will start the race, was rated along with capsule comment:

1. Al Unser; Tough to beat if he doesn't break; 2-1.
2. Johnny Rutherford; Morale is high, might feel racy, 7-1.

3. A.J. Foyt; Wants badly to be the first four timer; 2-1.
4. Roger McCluskey; New team, watch out for this one; 3-1.
5. Mark Donohue; Captain Nice, a real threat; 4-1.
6. Art Pollard; Could finish well up; 15-1.
7. Bobby Unser; Will lead sometime, maybe at end; 4-1.
8. Mario Andretti; New car, new crew, new problems; 6-1.
9. Jim Malloy; Good qualifier, short on experience; 20-1.
10. George Snider; Good car, probably finish top ten; 20-1.
11. Dan Gurney; Tired of second, will go for the bundle; 10-1.
12. Mike Mosley; Will probably win this race some day; 12-1.
13. Lee Roy Yarbrough; A good stocker, but is he hungry?; 14-1.
14. Bruce Walkup; Only one lap of experience at Indy; 30-1.
15. Rick Muther; Short on horsepower and experience; 30-1.
16. Peter Revson; He could be near front at finish; 15-1.
17. Gordon Johncock; Has a long way to go, but will go; 10-1.
18. Joe Leonard; Just a little too far back; 15-1.
19. Carl Williams; Best ride he has ever had; 25-1.
20. Gary Bettenhausen; Nothing but problems all month; 20-1.
21. George Follmer; Good driver, but 500 miles for car?; 20-1.
22. Mel Kenyon; Should finish in top 10 again; 30-1.
23. Donnie Allison; Could be tough here, someday; 25-1.
24. Wally Dallenbach; Better get out of the way; 20-1.
25. Lloyd Ruby; Because here comes Ruby; 15-1.
26. Jack Brabham; Off if he had arrived sooner; 20-1.
27. Ronnie Bucknum; He'll drive as long as the car runs; 30-1.
28. Greg Weld; If it were only a sprint race; 30-1.
29. Jerry Grant; He'll pass a few cars before he breaks; 30-1.
30. Bill Vukovich; Strange car and question marks; 25-1.
31. Dick Simon; Short on experience and pieces; 30-1.
32. Sammy Sessions; Car needs more work, but he's in; 30-1.
33. Jim McElreath; He won't finish 33rd; 25-1.

Brewers Blow Game to Twins

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
"They've been making errors for 100 years, since the game was invented," Dave Bristol said Monday night. Surprisingly, he wasn't referring to his Milwaukee Brewers.

Bristol has just seen his team commit four errors and botch up a wind-blown fly ball to help the Minnesota Twins to a 6-5 victory.

"Errors," Bristol sighed, "You can't do anything about them. Ours just came at an inopportune time."

Trailing 4-3 in the seventh inning, the Twins made the most of three Milwaukee errors, a walk and Rich Reese's infield single — the only hit of the inning — for three runs.

Elsewhere in the American League, Baltimore whipped Cleveland 6-2, Detroit edged the New York Yankees 4-3, Boston downed Washington 5-3 and Kansas City trounced the Chicago White Sox 7-1. California and Oakland were not scheduled.

Cincinnati nipped San Diego 2-1 in the only National League action.

Aided by gusty winds, the baseballs started acting up in the very first inning of the Minnesota-Milwaukee game when Twins left fielder Jim Holt misjudged a fly ball and it fell for a double.

Right fielder Tony Oliva bobbed Russ Snyder's run-scoring single in the third for one of Minnesota's two miscues and the Brewers started their give-away program in the fourth.

First, right fielder Steve Hovley dropped Oliva's liner for a two-base error and then Harmon Killebrew's fly ball got caught in the breeze and fell behind Hovley and center fielder Snyder for a triple.

But the Brewers reached the heights of generosity in the seventh. For opener, shortstop Ted Kubiak booted George Mitterwald's grounder. With one out, Cesar Tovar's grounder went through third baseman Tommy Harper and there were runners at first and third.

Pitcher Skip Lockwood retired Rod Carew on a short fly for the second out, but made the mistake of letting Oliva hit the ball on the ground. Kubiak booted this one, too, as the tying run scored. Killebrew walked, loading the bases, and Tovar and Oliva both raced home as Reese outlegged an infield hit and Lockwood couldn't handle first baseman Mike Hegan's throw.

The Twins tried to hand it back in the ninth. With two down, Harper doubled, Snyder singled him home and third baseman Frank Quilici, just put in for defense, kicked Roberto Pena's grounder. But Oliva made a fine catch of Danny Walton's high wind-blown pop fly to end the contest.

The Orioles scored three runs in each of the first two innings and rolled past the Indians on Dave McNally's six-inning. Paul Blair started Baltimore off with a two-run double in the first. McNally, 8-2, lost his shutout in the ninth when Roy Foster hit a two-run homer.

Willie Horton hit a three-run homer for the Tigers, but they needed Bill Freehan's leadoff round-tripper in the last of the ninth to edge the Yankees. Bobby Murcer homered for the Yanks, who tied the score in the top of the ninth on Horace Clarke's sacrifice fly.

Tony Conigliaro walloped two solo homers, Carl Yastrzemski hit one and Gerry Moses drove in two runs with a pair of doubles as the Red Sox turned back Washington.

Dave Morehead hurled his first complete game since 1968 — a five-hitter — as Kansas City drubbed the White Sox, who suffered their fifth consecutive loss and ninth in 10 games. After the first three Chicago batters singled, Morehead retired 19 in a row.

Morehead also drove in the first KC run with a second-inning double and the Royals went ahead in the fifth on a double by Ellie Rodriguez and Pat Kelly's single. They added five more in the eighth.

Jaycees And Merchants Post Wins

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer
Last night at Legion Field, the Jaycees blasted Citizens 15-2 behind the pitching of David Huddleston.

The Jaycees never trailed, scoring 3 runs in the 1st inning and picking up 7 more runs in the 2nd and 5 in the 4th. Ricky Brown led the hitting with 2 hits.

The losing pitcher was Tim Guter with the only runs scored for Citizens by Jim Rhodes and Randy Banks.

In the 2nd game, First National was moving right along for their 3rd victory, until the string broke.

First National had a 3 to 0 lead in the 3rd inning. On various errors and plays merchants rose up for 8 big runs in the last three innings.

Merchants had taken a 5 to 3 lead, but hopes for First National were still alive when Paul Young reached first base, stole 2nd and 3rd and home on a walk. However the rally was extinguished and an inning later it was all over.

Billy McCorkle took the win with Phil Byers picking up 2 hits for the Merchants.

Tonight, there will be a semi-Babe Ruth game, here, against Texarkana. Both Hope teams will combine, due to graduation at the High School. It is a real game for Texarkana, who is already 3 and 0.

Flood to Wind Up His Case
By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Curt Flood's lawyers are expected to complete presentation of his $3 million antitrust suit against baseball in Federal Court Tuesday.

Pete Rozelle, commissioner of professional football, was the only witness in Monday's abbreviated session. He was under subpoena from Flood's lawyer, Arthur Goldberg, former United States Supreme Court Justice.

Rozelle told the court about football's player-option contract, which operates quite differently than baseball's reserve clause, but he also added that some pro football clubs might have failed if the merged leagues had not agreed on a common player draft in 1966.

In answer to questions by Jay Tokas, a Goldberg associate, who asked Rozelle to identify the clubs that might have failed, Rozelle said:

"I feel some clubs in the American Football League and some in the National Football League would have failed because of escalating costs."

Pressed to name the teams, Rozelle added:

"As long as he had somebody to play against, I think Lamar Hunt (Kansas City owner) could afford to field a football team for some time."

"And I think Bud Adams (owner of Houston) also could afford to field a team for some time as long as he had somebody to play."

If the Flood case is completed, possibly with the testimony of Walter Kennedy, commissioner of the National Basketball Association, the defense is expected to start its case. Among the early witnesses is sure to be Bowie Kuhn, the baseball commissioner.

Flood, former St. Louis Cardinal center fielder who refused to accept his trade to the Philadelphia Phillies, is suing baseball for $3 million in an antitrust suit, challenging baseball's reserve system.

Under baseball law, a player is bound to the club with whom he originally signs a contract until he is traded, sold or released.

A pro football player, upon termination of his current contract, can play one more year under the option clause for at least 90 per cent of his previous pay, and then become a free agent on May 1 of the following year. He can sign with any other club but that club must compensate his old club. If the clubs can not agree on the compensation, commissioner Rozelle makes the final decision.

Asked how often he had to make a final determination, Rozelle said: "No more than four or five times."

Rozelle said about 10 players played out their options last season and "less than 25" in previous years.

When Jay Topki, one of Flood's attorneys, asked Rozelle if the right to play out an option had been helpful to pro football, Rozelle said:

"Football has been able to live with its rules."

"Profitably?" asked Topki. "On occasions," answered Rozelle.

The losing American men were Jim Osborne of Honolulu, George Seewagen of New York and Dan O'Bryant of Sabinal, Tex.

In the women's singles losers were Denise Carter of Los Angeles, Calif., and Kathy Harter of Seal Beach, Calif.

PARIS (AP) — Jack Kramer, the man who nursed professional tennis through its infancy and was one of the earliest and strongest advocates of open tournaments, today blasted the pros for not coming to the French Open Tournament.

"I think it's a terrible thing that the pros haven't come to play in the biggest championship of its kind," Kramer said. "It's a heck of a confrontation. It's going to decide who is running tennis."

The French Tennis Federation put up $100,000 in prize money for this year's championship, with $10,000 for the men's singles winner.

Ashe Moves on Toward Grand Slam
PARIS (AP) — Arthur Ashe, Jr., shooting for a rare grand slam, has advanced to the second round of the French Open Tennis Championships along with a contingent of cannonballing American stars.

Joining the American Negro star with first round victories Monday were Davis Cup mates Charles Pasarell, Jim McManus and Cliff Richey and Billie Jean King and Kristy Pigeon in women's play.

Ashe, of Richmond, Va., who has already won the Australian title, was the most impressive Monday, wallowing Czeslaw Rybarczyk of Poland 6-0, 6-2, 6-0. To win the grand slam of tennis, Ashe must also take the Wimbledon and U.S. Open titles.

Pasarell, from Puerto Rico, ousted Christian Duxin of France 6-4, 6-2, 6-0; McManus, of Berkeley, Calif., beat Ranty Krog of South Africa, 6-4, 6-2, 6-3 and Richey of San Angelo, Tex., advanced with a 6-0, 6-1, 6-4, victory over Frenchman Jean-Pierre Thamin.

Mrs. King, a three-time Wimbledon winner who is making a comeback after a knee operation, had a tough time, but managed to beat Helen Amos of Australia 7-5, 6-3. Mrs. King is from Long Beach, Calif.

Schaeffler to Coach U.S. Ski Team

DENVER (AP) — Willy Schaeffler, whose University of Denver ski teams won more intercollegiate crowns than rival coaches care to remember, says his new position as head coach of the U.S. Alpine ski program is "one of the greatest challenges of my career."

Schaeffler, 54, was named Monday to take over the reins of the entire program, including coaching of the U.S. men's and women's Alpine teams.

Schaeffler's Denver teams won every NCAA ski championship except two since 1954—and the two years they didn't win, they placed second.

Schaeffler said it will take the team effort of all United States Ski Association divisional members and their leaders to realize the ambitious goals being set.

The blond, graying native of Kaufbeuren, Bavaria, has guided his college teams to victory in 100 of 123 meets, and finished in the top three 122 of 123 times. He has coached 24 racers to All-America positions, and 15 of his skiers have been on U.S. Olympic teams.

Aaron 9th on Golf's Money List

NEW YORK (AP) — Tommy Aaron's victory in the Atlanta Classic last Sunday has boosted him from 26th to ninth among pro golf's money-earners.

Aaron won $25,000 at Atlanta to increase his year's winnings to $59,258 according to figures released by the PGA today.

Lee Trevino, who did not compete in the Atlanta Classic, tops the money race with $107,641. Gary Player, who tied for third in Atlanta, maintained his grip on second place with $88,077.

Dick Lotz is third among the money-winners with $75,951 followed by Billy Casper with $69,483. Miller Barber rounds out the top five at $68,865.

Then came Jack Nicklaus, $66,283; Bob Lunn, $65,728; Arnold Palmer, $59,792; Aaron, and Frank Beard, $56,591.

Trevino also still leads in the weekly point standings based on victories and times finished among the top five. He heads the field with 933.3 points while Lunn, who tied for seventh in Atlanta, is runnerup with 737.9 points.

Aaron's victory Sunday earned him 120 points and he climbed from 10th place to third with 714.6. Next comes Homero Blancas with 710.0, and Lotz is fifth at 701.5.

The remainder of the top 10 is composed of Player, 699.1; Dave Stockton, 677.8; Barber, 650.5; Beard, 646.7, and Bruce Crampton, 630.0.

Stram and Sayers Honored

NEW YORK (AP) — Hank Stram was hailed as Super Man and Gale Sayers was praised for his courage Monday night by the New York Chapter of the Pro-Football Writers of America.

Coach Stram was honored as Super Man of the Year for leading the Kansas City Chiefs to the championship of pro football, climaxed with a Super Bowl victory over Minnesota.

"Of all the honors I have received, tonight's holds the greatest honor for me," Sayers, the great halfback of the Chicago Bears, said after receiving the George Halas Award as Most Courageous Player in Pro Football.

Sayers rushed for more than 1,000 yards, after missing about half of the 1968 season because of a knee injury.

Quarterback Joe Kapp of Minnesota was honored as the National Football League Player of the Year, and quarterback Daryl Lamonica of Oakland was recognized as American Football League Player of the Year.

Dan Reeves, owner of the Los Angeles Rams, was honored for long and meritorious service to pro football. Reeves is hospitalized and his award was accepted by former Ram grats, Bob Waterfield and Elroy Hirsch.

Secrets of Longhorns Put on Film

By ROBERT HEARD
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN (AP) — The hottest item now on the football market is a 28-minute color film that tells everything about the Texas Wishbone-T offense.

Longhorn coach Darrell Royal put together the film because he had so many inquiries about the new formation. He mailed a brochure touting the $250 reel to every high school and college in the country on May 1.

Already, 74 schools have ordered the film through distributor Dick Snyder of NCAA Films in Washington, D.C. Included among these are Notre Dame, Michigan State, Alabama, Texas A&M, UCLA and Kentucky.

Royal declined to say how much Snyder gets because "that is a private business transaction." Asked if the Texas share goes into the school's athletic fund, he said: "No, it goes into the Royal fund."

That means $18,500 for Royal's pocket in just three weeks—less what he pays Snyder.

To paraphrase a popular Texas bumper sticker that says, "When you've got it, flaunt it," the coach of last year's national champions could say, "When you've got it, sell it."

The film gives the blocking assignments for every player against the 5-2 umbrella defense, the 6-1 umbrella and the split 6.

It describes blocking techniques in detail and tells which players assume a four-point stance and which start from a three-point stance.

Clips from last year's games show three different quarterback runs running the triple option, the basic maneuver from the formation.

In the triple option, the offensive line hits everyone on or near the line of scrimmage except the defensive tackle and end on the side being attacked. The linemen create what Royal calls "a crease" between the offensive guard and tackle.

The quarterback makes a quarter turn, picks up his charging fullback and concentrates on the defensive tackle. The quarterback puts the ball in the fullback's stomach, and the full back takes a "soft hold" on it.

If the tackle hangs back or moves to the outside, the quarterback leaves the ball in the fullback's arms, and the fullback blasts through the "crease." If the tackle charges the fullback, the quarterback takes back the ball, and the fullback smashes into the tackle as a blocker.

The quarterback then "reads" the defensive end. If the end hangs back or moves to the outside, the quarterback cuts up field with the ball. If the end charges, the ball is flipped to a halfback going wide.

Other schools have used the triple option off of the veer-T, which puts one of the backs out wide as a potential pass receiver. This works better for a pass-minded team.

The Wishbone-T keeps all the backs behind the quarterback—with the fullback two feet closer to the line than the halfbacks—and it always gives the trailing halfback a lead blocker when the quarterback is forced to flip the ball out wide. This works better for a ground-minded team like Texas.

Texas averaged 5.3 yards per rushing play in 10 games last year, amassing a total of 3,630 yards, second only to Oklahoma's 3,910 yards in 1956.

Two teams extended Texas' ground game last year: Oklahoma and Arkansas. Oklahoma held the Longhorns to 155 net yards on the ground, but the Sooners jammed eight men on the line, daring Texas to pass. The Longhorns took the dare and gobbled up 215 yards in the air.

Arkansas' cat-quick defense gave up only 244 yards on the ground, but Texas fumbled four times and had two passes intercepted in that game, with two of the fumbles having nothing to do with anything Arkansas did.

Texas gained 611 yards on the ground against SMU, 523 against Navy and 517 against TCU. Against Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl, Texas gouged out 331 yards against a defense that had given up an average of only 85 yards a game.

"If (the Wishbone-T film) will help anyone who wants to run it or defend it," Royal said, "I'm afraid it will help his opponents."

"If I thought it would have that effect I wouldn't have put it together," he said.

Coaches can pick up all the important points in game films that are swapped during the

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

The Senior choir of Bethel A.M.E. Church will meet for rehearsal Friday night May 29th instead of tonight as previously scheduled; the children's choir will meet for rehearsal also on Friday at 5 p.m. instead of Thursday. All members of both choirs are urged to take note of the change. Rev. W.G. Wynn, Pastor makes these announcements.

The Anna P. Strong Federated Club will hold its regular monthly meeting in the home of Mrs. Dorothy Mitchell in Blevins Thursday May 28th at 7:30 p.m. All members will go in a caravan and are asked to meet at Hicks Funeral Home at 7 o'clock. Mrs. Estelle Spearman, president.

PERSONAL MENTION

Miss Deborah Ann Williams a former student of Yerger High School, graduated Magna Cum Laude from M.C. Williams Senior High School, Houston, Texas, May 22nd.

Miss Williams is the granddaughter of Mrs. Mattie Dockery of Little Rock, Arkansas and Mrs. Willard McFadden of Hope, Arkansas, great granddaughter of Mrs. Anna Harris Lewis also of Hope, Ark.

Mrs. Lewis and her daughter Mrs. Dockery attended the graduating exercises, and were guests of Mrs. Dockery's daughter, Mrs. Margaret N. Coleman and Mr. Coleman.

season, he said. This film simply puts it all together in a neat package.

Does Royal think it will help his recruiting to have hundreds, maybe even thousands, of high school athletes looking at Texas looking good?

"Let's say it has more plusses than minuses," he said.

The Royal-narrated film ends with these words: "There it is—the Wishbone-T as run by the University of Texas. If you decide to use it, I hope it makes a few first downs for you."

It will help if you have a quarterback like James Street handing off to bruisers like Ted Koy, Steve Worster and Jim Bertelsen.

And if you want to defense it, you should know that just when you are all set against the triple option, Texas will run what it calls "the counter option" to the other side.

Baseball to Retain 162-Game Season

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
NEW YORK (AP) — The major league baseball season will remain at 162 games but the players will be enriched shortly by nearly $4 million in benefits when a new three-year contract is signed.

The agreement between the Major League Baseball Players Association and clubowners will give the players $800,000 immediately, Marvin Miller, executive director of the association, said Monday.

He estimated that the players would benefit to the tune of $4 million over the three years.

Miller, recommending acceptance of the pact, said all 24 player representatives had been contacted and a final vote is due within a week. It is expected that the owners will ratify the package at the same time.

The players had rejected an earlier owners' proposal by a 505-89 vote, based on three major points of disagreement: the length of the season, playoff compensation and termination pay.

The clubowners won out on the issue of the 162-game regular season, citing long term radio and television contracts as factors.

However, on the playoff kitty, owners offered to increase the players' share from 50 per cent to 60 per cent, with all expenses coming out of the owners' share.

Under the new termination agreement, a player will get 30 days' salary if cut during spring training, and 60 days' pay if cut during the regular season. Previously, a player did not receive anything if dropped during the spring and only 30 days' pay if he was let go after the season had begun.

In 1972, a player cut after May 15 will receive his entire contract salary.

The owners and players have already agreed on increases in minimum pay with the rate going from $10,000 to $12,000 in 1970, $12,500 in 1971 and $13,500 in 1972.

Other adjustments include an increase in spring training allowances from $15 to $17 per day in 1971; a cost of living increase; increased moving expenses; and improved working conditions.

The reserve ruling was set aside, pending the outcome of the Curt Flood case. However, it can be reopened on 10-day notice at the end of the season in 1972.

Soccer Star Held for Burglary

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — England's World Cup soccer team captain Bobby Moore was still held today by the Colombian police on charges of alleged jewelry burglary he denied before a court.

Judge Pedro S. Dorado announced it would take at least five days for him to decide whether a formal arrest order is issued or Moore is freed.

No ball was considered at the moment, but Moore reportedly spent the night, on police authorization, at the home of a local soccer official.

He had been held by the police minutes before the English team boarded its plane for Mexico after two-week practice games here and in Quito, Ecuador.

Moore was held on charges of having stolen a $1,300 bracelet when he visited a jewelry shop last Monday. The English team played two games here last Wednesday and left for Quito the day after.

2 Lead 48 in Bowling All-Star

NORTHBROOK, Ill. (AP) — Bobby Cooper of Houston and Pat McNeill of Durham, N.C., led 48 men and 48 women into the semifinals of the $65,000 29th All-Star Bowling Tournament.

Cooper, 25, finished his 18th game qualifying round Monday night with 4,017 pins, giving him an 81-pin edge over second-place Billy Hardwick of Louisville, the defending champion who totaled 3,936. In third was Ralph Engan of Monsey, N.Y., with 3,905.

The 48 men still left will bowl 12 more games today with the top 12 advancing into the match game finals which run from Wednesday through Friday. At stake is an $8,000 first-prize check.

'Indy 500' Is Tough on Rookies

By LLOYD RUBY
Written for
The Associated Press
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Rookies have a hard time at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway. Now, it's hard to imagine anybody having a harder time qualifying for this year's race than me, but I'll guarantee there's one rookie who earned his starting position.

Donnie Allison, the stock car rookie from down south, spun twice the first week he was here and he starts 23rd, which is darned good for a shave-tail.

Luck didn't have anything to do with what happened to Donnie before he qualified. It was a matter of experience. That's what it takes to run this old place...experience. You have to know what to do and when to do it and where to do it.

If you think I'm kidding, I'll give you a good example. Donnie Allison is a fine race driver. He had never been to the Speedway except for a fire test and about all he did was observe. He didn't run many laps on the track — just enough to know he wanted to drive in the Indy 500.

Donnie spun the first day he went out on his rookie test. It was a good lesson for him. He told me later he was confused because some officials told him to run with two wheels below the yellow line, which actually is way below the groove.

Donnie didn't know how fast he was going when he went into the corner and tried to keep his left wheels too low and that's when he lost it. If he had run at any speed on the track before, he would have known you can't go fast down there.

He lost it again later but that time it was a real windy day. He zipped down in the third corner flat out. There's a gap between the grandstands in the third corner and the wind can play all sorts of funny tricks on you there.

The wind caught Donnie and moved him out of the groove and he jerked the wheel to the left real quick to correct it. I knew when I saw his tire marks afterwards what had happened.

You see, stock car drivers can let the rear end of their cars hang way out on the big oval tracks — we call it running loose — but you can't do that in one of our championship cars. These cars react a lot quicker. When you jerk the wheel of a championship car, you might as well get set, because you're going to find the rear end leading you around the race track.

I told Donnie that I get out which litigation ends. Flood is suing baseball for $3 million on an anti-trust charge after refusing to accept his trade from St. Louis to Philadelphia.

At Indy, you have to go into the corners real low, then get the car back out to the wall between the short chutes as quick as possible. Heck, if you don't, there's no way you can run fast.

Actually, I've been so close to the wall, I've flinched a hundred times. I get so close, I just know I'm gonna hit. I just scrunch up my shoulders and wait to see. I get a funny feeling in my stomach. My next lap is always slower, I'm sure!

The more laps you run at Indy, the better off you are, I've been running Firestone tire tests here for quite some time and that extra experience has certainly helped me in learning what to do and what not to do at this old place.

Hey! It's a tough race track! The biggest mistake rookies make is thinking they can come up here for the first time and run as fast as anybody. Nine times out of ten, they don't have the equipment to do that.

Now, I'm not down on rookies or anything like that. Every driver has to start some place but new drivers can be a great handicap in the race. The track always gets oily and slick and that makes it a whole new ball game.

You have to know which drivers you can really race with at Indy, and you'd best find out before the green flag falls. I'll tell you more about that tomorrow.

It may well be that 100 honors have killed more rubber bridge players than cancer.

South's spade opening bid was correct. He was too strong to open one no-trump and too weak to open with two. When North responded one no-trump, South should simply have raised him to three, but South tried a three-club bid. North gave a preference to three spades.

At this point in the proceedings, South could have saved the day by going to three no-trump, but he was looking at his honors and wanted to collect the bonus. He collected the bonus but had to use it to pay off the penalty for going down one trick.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Woman's Age: Her Secret?

May a woman lie about her age? The question is not always a frivolous one. On the contrary, serious courtroom battles have been waged over this very issue.

Suppose, for example, that a bridegroom finds out after the wedding that his bride is older than she said she was. Does her deception give him a right to an annulment on grounds of fraud?

Generally, no. Annulments are indeed granted for fraud, but only when the fraud involves something truly fundamental to from West to manage to go down, but West was very agreeable. He succeeded in laying a trap for South to fall into.

South won the heart lead in dummy and promptly led a trump in order to try a finesse. The finesse worked beautifully. South went right back to dummy with a second heart for a repeat performance. This time West produced the king, cashed a heart and led back the nine of trumps. South struggled along but he could not get back to dummy to take the diamond finesse and wound up losing one trick in each suit.

South really should not have fallen for West's play. To start with, there was no reason for West to take that first spade. West knew that his partner held just one more spade and hence he couldn't lose a trick by ducking.

South also should have seen that he wasn't going to pick up the king of spades if East had started with four. But he could pick it up by playing the ace if East had started with just two. Therefore, South should have laid down his ace of trumps and retained the diamond finesse to win, in case he didn't drop the king of trumps.

What do you do now?

A—Pass. Your partner must be aware of the fact that you don't have more than one spade and do have four diamonds. He is willing to play four spades and you should accept his judgment.

TODAY'S QUESTION
Instead of bidding four spades your partner has bid five diamonds over your four. What do you do now?

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Highways in the United States totaled an estimated 3,684,085 miles in 1968. The World Almanac says. The total mileage traveled by was no doubt about that.

Nevertheless, it may be a different story when a woman takes some years off her age in applying for life insurance.

In this situation, there is no question of gallantry, no question of maturity. It is simply a question of arithmetic. An insurance company calculates its risk on the basis of the woman's life expectancy, which in turn depends primarily upon her age.

In most cases, an understated age on an insurance application will mean that the beneficiary of the policy will collect proportionately less insurance.

In fact, if the misstatement is due not to coquettishness but to plain dishonesty, the entire policy might be held null and void. The law may condone vanity, but not cheating.

The name Charles or Karl stems from the High German word for "full-grown man." Because so many kings, from the time of Charlemagne on down, were given the name of Charles, it came to mean a "great man; manly."

Forecast Rains Miss Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Drier air has moved into Arkansas following the passage of a cold front late Monday.

General rains failed to materialize as the front moved through the state. Widely scattered showers, however, did provide enough rainfall to settle the dust in some parts of the state, the Weather Bureau said.

The cool front was located on the state's eastern border this morning and the possibility of any precipitation in the state was not in sight, the bureau said.

The bureau predicted fair skies through Wednesday with high temperatures in the 80s and 90s.

Highs Monday ranged from 81 at Fayetteville to 93 at Little Rock.

Overnight lows included 52 at Fayetteville, 54 at Harrison, 60 at Jonesboro, 66 at Pine Bluff, 67 at Texarkana, 32 at El Dorado, 66 at Memphis, 65 at Little Rock and 58 at Fort Smith.

FDA Demotes Critic of Lab Findings

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration has quietly demoted the man who accused some agency bureaucrats of altering laboratory conclusions which cast doubt on established FDA regulatory policy.

FDA Commissioner Charles C. Edwards reorganized a pathology unit last week making Dr. Howard L. Richardson the acting number 2 man in a new pathology division. Richardson had been the FDA's chief pathologist since 1968.

Edwards installed Dr. Bert J. Vos as acting head of the pathology division, according to an FDA memorandum dated May 19. Vos, a longtime agency official, is a medical doctor but not a pathologist.

However, a leading pathologist from the government's National Cancer Institute is in line for the job on a permanent basis, an FDA spokesman emphasized.

Richardson was brought in to revitalize FDA pathology in part because of a reputation he gained in the Veterans Administration as a hard-nosed scraper committed to scientific integrity, knowledgeable FDA officials say.

FDA memoranda show that Richardson has ranked longtime agency officials during the past year and a half with insistent demands for upgrading pathology in the agency. Pathology is the branch of medicine dealing with the causes of tissue injury and death.

A memorandum written by Richardson Oct. 20, 1969, as a subject of later news stories increased tensions within the troubled agency.

Richardson charged that bureaucrats with limited scientific training expunged conclusions and recommendations from reports of certain animal experiments. The experiments in question appeared to contradict official agency positions on the safety of some food additives, most notably the artificial sweetener cyclamate.

Richardson has met mounting bureaucratic retaliation since news stories of his charges appeared one month ago, reliable FDA officials said. Richardson is attending a scientific meeting in Texas and was not available for comment.

Nixon Tells NATO About Cambodia

ROME (AP) — President Nixon today told his North Atlantic allies that U.S. action in Cambodia is necessary for the withdrawal of American forces.

His defense was made in a letter read at the opening session of a North Atlantic Council meeting by William P. Rogers, secretary of state. It said nearly 7,900 of the enemy had been killed at a cost of 201 U.S. soldiers and 451 South Vietnamese.

The letter was addressed to Manlio Brosio, secretary-general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization—NATO.

"We still prefer to end this war by negotiation," Nixon wrote. "However, I am convinced we will not have serious discussions so long as the enemy believes that he can ignore our warnings and reject our flexible proposals for a settlement. We are not increasing our demands."

Nixon said the weapons captured in Cambodia, as of Monday, "would equip more than 30 battalions at a strength of 400 to 500 men."

He promised that U.S. operations in the area would be over by the end of June.

Rogers read the letter during a speech covering the situation in the Middle East, central Europe and the strategic missile talks with the Soviets, as well as the Indochina war.

On the Middle East, Rogers said the Soviet Union's increasing involvement has injected new instability and danger of war into the area.

In the light of this, he went on, the United States is reviewing all aspects of policy in the region. This review includes reconsideration of Israel's request for more warplanes to counter the presence of active Soviet military pilots and SAM3 missiles in Egypt.

3 Qualify in U.S. Open Regional

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — M. C. Methvin Jr. of Hot Springs, Pete Fleming of Hot Springs and Larry Campbell of Fort Smith captured the three berths in the U.S. Open regional qualifying here Monday.

Methvin, who was on the professional tour for three years, led the way with a five-under-par total of 139 on rounds of 69-70.

Fleming, pro at the Belvedere Country Club, shot 68-73 for a 141 total. Campbell grabbed the final qualifying spot in a sudden death playoff with Pete Barker, pro at Western Hills Country Club in Little Rock. Campbell birdied the first extra hole after both finished the 36 holes with 143 totals.

Tom Rancey of Little Rock was the top amateur in the field with a 144 total on rounds of 73-71.

Methvin, Fleming and Campbell will play their final qualifying rounds in Dallas, Tex., next month.

Ramp Falls, Killing Man Underneath

BAIRDWIN PARK, Calif. (AP) — Highway crews say bulldozers and dump trucks will probably work through Wednesday clearing away six million pounds of rubble left when a freeway off-ramp bridge collapsed Monday, killing a motorist.

The bridge, not open to traffic, fell onto an underpass transition road, trapping the motorist and his 1955 pickup truck underneath.

Commuter traffic normally jams the transition road. Although the concrete bridge caved in during morning rush hour, only the one truck was underneath. The scene was 10 miles east of Los Angeles at the connection of the San Bernardino Freeway with the San Gabriel River Freeway.

Accused Must Get Speedy Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has again cautioned the states they must enforce the constitutional right of defendants to be brought to trial speedily.

But the right, contained in the sixth amendment and applied to the states by the court beginning in 1967, remains largely undefined.

The court's latest involvement was a decision Monday that upset the holdup conviction of a Florida truckdriver who was not tried until 7½ years after arrest.

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger said the delay obviously prejudiced the delayed defendant, Robert Dean Dickey, since two witnesses died and police records were lost or destroyed.

Moreover, Burger said, Dickey three times asked to be tried and was turned down before officials, under pressure of Florida courts, finally decided to move ahead with his prosecution.

Crowded dockets, a lack of judges or lawyers and other factors sometime make delay inevitable, the chief justice said. But when the delay is for the convenience of the state and is prejudicial to the defendant, it is intolerable and impermissible, he said.

The ruling only begins to resolve a serious legal problem.

Justice William J. Brennan Jr., noted in a concurring opinion that the court has left several questions open.

For example: Does the right to be tried speedily also involve a right to be indicted speedily? And: Does a convicted man have to show he was prejudiced by delay, or is a long delay sufficient ground to invalidate the conviction?

Also: Does a man have to demand a speedy trial, as Dickey did, to be entitled to one? Undoubtedly, there are ac-

Judge Holds 6,000 Should Be Set Free

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal judge holds that the Army should release the estimated 6,000 men who were illegally reclassified I-A and drafted prior to a U.S. Supreme Court ruling banning such inductions.

U.S. District Court Judge Alfonso J. Zirpoli's order Monday to release Pfc. Robert W. Andre was called the first retroactive application of the high court's Gutknecht decision of last January.

The 23-year-old Downey, Calif., man, now at Ft. Ord, Calif., was inducted April 9, 1969, by a draft board which accelerated his induction because he failed to supply the board an address change.

He petitioned for release last March on the basis of the Supreme Court's 5-3 decision that it was illegal for the draft board of David E. Gutknecht of Gaylord, Minn., to hasten his induction because he turned—in his draft card at a 1967 antiwar rally.

Those who do everything they can to delay their trials, and some undoubtedly benefit by the delay.

But, in the main, delay operates against a man's ability to defend himself. Witnesses and evidence may be lost, memories fade, and, Brennan pointed out, some defenses, such as insanity, become more difficult to sustain.

Three years ago an American Bar Association study group recommended that prosecution of criminal defendants be prohibited if they are not brought to trial speedily.

The report said a speedy trial spares the defendant a long period of pretrial imprisonment and possibly unfounded public suspicion. The public, meanwhile, is protected from the possibility the accused will become a fugitive and commit more crimes.

Automation wiped out manual elevator jobs.

Automation spells the death-knell of thousands of other "hand jobs."

But never forget that the more automation you have the greater the demand for young folks with education enough to develop skill at keeping complicated machines running.

Education? I was reminded what it is when one of The Star's newsmen spelled it out to me in reverse. He was having trouble with a school theme, and when I reminded him that our office had a Webster's Unabridged in which he could look up the meaning of words, he cracked back:

"How will that help me? If I can't spell it I can't find it in the dictionary."

And there, my friends, he had just told you and me what an education is—to know; and if you don't know, to have the capacity to search and find what you want to know."

On the other hand, you can't just shout about your annoyance or irritation at the things about life which vex you. To do this only embarrasses yourself, troubles your friends, and pleases your enemies.

But how can you get rid of your pent-up spleen without making a public display of your temper? An old man once told me his secret:

"When you get too grouchy to live with yourself, write down on a piece of paper a list of the things that bother you. That'll get them out of your system. Read the list over five times, then take a match and burn it. You can't help but feel better."

I think I'll give his system a try. Here, on a rainy day in May, are one man's pet peeves

Police Union Idea Triggered by Rising City Riot Threat

DENVER (AP) — The first National policemen's union has been told by its newly-elected president that the organization concept was prompted by the upsurge in protest demonstrations in the nation's cities.

Speaking to the opening session Monday of the International Brotherhood of Police Officers, John J. Cassese, said: "We face more turmoil than ever before as various groups of citizens react to situations they do not like."

Cassese said the IBPO is trying to keep public confidence in police by taking a no-strike posture in the constitution unanimously approved Monday.

He added that the no-strike clause won't prevent lawmen from participating in political action.

He said the action would include speaking out against "hostile officials," answering "unjustified criticism from news media and the creation of 'truth squads' so that the public might know all the facts in a situation involving the police."

He said a big goal of the union will be "the same consideration in matters of living wages, good working conditions, medical plans and fair retirement benefits as other workers receive."

However, the union won't be "a power bloc of policemen" designed to "force the officials of our towns, cities, counties and states to do what we want," he said.

The organization formed here wants a charter from the AFL-CIO, Cassese said and he and other IBPO officers elected Monday night will meet with AFL-CIO President George Meany.

Cassese said the organization already has met the AFL-CIO's requirement of nationwide participation by policemen.

Price-Wage Freeze Is Possibility

By JIM PHILLIPS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress now has before it wage and price control legislation, another element in the economic debate drawing more and testier comment every day in the capital.

"We are in serious straits," Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., said as he introduced a bill to create a federal board that could freeze wages and prices for six months.

Democratic leaders Carl Albert of the House and Mike Mansfield of the Senate urged in a joint statement that President Nixon "extricate (the nation) from the economic morass that has befallen us" by immediately convening a National Conference on Inflation and Unemployment.

A group of union economists met with Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz to urge selective credit controls or an immediate freeze on profits, wages, prices and salaries.

The White House, meanwhile, said Nixon remained confident the nation's sluggish economy would pick up steam later this year.

And a spokesman added the President was keeping close tabs on the stock market. The Dow Jones industrial average Monday fell 20.51 points to 641.36, its lowest level in seven and one-half years.

Nixon also was criticized by Republican members of Congress. Rep. John W. Byrnes, ranking GOP member of the House Ways and Means Committee, told Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy and Budget Director Robert P. Mayo they are taxing the credibility of the American people by insisting the budget is nearly in balance and asking for an $18 billion increase in the debt ceiling.

"Things are not going well, despite administration statements," Harris told the Senate. His bill calls for creation of a National Economic Equity Board that would have the authority to set voluntary price-wage guidelines. In addition, the board could set credit controls to be enacted by the Federal Reserve Board.

The board also would have the power, "if it found it necessary, to institute price and wage freezes for up to six months to halt the present inflationary spiral."

Harris said Nixon already has the power to enforce about three-fourths of what his bill proposes. "But the administration keeps insisting things are getting better," Harris explained.

Year-Round School at Louisville

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — From now on, the 90,000 kids in Jefferson County may go to school all year if they want to.

Or, if they prefer to take the traditional vacation they may have it in summer, autumn, winter or spring.

A decision to scrap the nine-month school year and conduct classes for all 12 grades on a four-quarter, year-round basis was made by the Board of Education Monday night.

The objective is to save money in school building construction costs and make better use of educational personnel.

The program is expected to be in operation by September 1971 if a $350,000 grant is forthcoming from the U.S. Office of Education. Without the grant, the school system will move into the new plan over a period of several years.

Supt. Richard Van Hoose predicted the concept ultimately would become the accepted plan in school systems across the nation.

Mrs. Robert Tully, school board president, said before making its unanimous decision the board studied the results of year-round plans already working in the Atlanta and Fulton County, Ga., school systems in grades 8-12.

She said she believes the Jefferson system will be the only one with a year-round program for all 12 grades.

Market Takes Worst Beating

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market took its worst beating Monday since President Kennedy's assassination as the Dow Jones industrial average plunged more than 20 points.

The Dow average of 30 industrial stocks lost 20.81 points, the biggest single-day drop since it fell 21.16 points on Nov. 22, 1963, the day Kennedy died. The closing Dow average of 641.36 Monday was its lowest point since Dec. 18, 1962, when it closed at 640.14.

During the past 17 months, the Dow average has lost more than 320 points, 130 of them in the past six weeks.

Analysts blame investor concern over high interest rates, declining corporate profits, inflation and the war in Indochina for the continued depression of the stock market.

The New York Stock Exchange index of some 1,200 common stocks fell 1.24 to 38.20, lowest point since August 1963. The American Stock Exchange price change index dropped .49 to 19.57, lowest level since June 16, 1967.

The Associated Press 60-stock average slipped 7.6 to 225.6, lowest closing since Nov. 8, 1962. Standard & Poor's 500-stock index hit a new 1970 low, dropping 2 points to 70.25.

VFW Asks Recall of Fulbright

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — The state Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars says officers and leaders of the state VFW should support the movement to recall Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark.

Pete Till of Hot Springs made the statement in a letter to various persons in the organization.

Jim Johnson, former state Supreme Court Justice, is leading a campaign to put on the November general election ballot a proposed constitutional amendment that would permit an election to be held to recall Fulbright.

Hill said in the letter that Arkansas needs the recall provision "because one of our U.S. senators has consistently taken a stand in direct opposition to that of the VFW and the President of the United States, relative to the conflict in Southeast Asia and by doing so, he is giving comfort to the enemy."

The letter included petitions supporting Johnson's proposed amendment.

8 Americans Killed as Enemy Strikes Back in Cambodia

War Money Bill Nears Decision

By WALTER R. MEARS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — With the first Senate vote on the issue pending, the Cambodia debate has been spurred anew with speculation of future U.S. involvement across the South Vietnamese border.

The roll call is being viewed as only a brief pause in the torrent of words on Cambodia, a subject which has dominated business in the chamber for ten days.

Both sides in the dispute about legislation to cut off funds for retaining U.S. forces in Cambodia after July 1 acknowledged the vote today would have little significance.

The measure involved is a conciliatory change in the cutoff amendment, to declare that it is "in concert with the declared objectives of the President" that U.S. forces be withdrawn from Cambodia by June 30. This amounts to an "amendment of an amendment."

It was deemed certain to pass, but the White House already has sent word that it will not alter administration opposition to the basic amendment.

Indications of future U.S. involvement in support of South Vietnamese forces in Cambodia drew protests from Sens. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., chief sponsors of the main fund cutoff proposal.

Cooper urged the administration to press Saigon for the withdrawal of its troops from Cambodia in line with the June 30 timetable President Nixon has announced for American forces.

He said any involvement after June 30 would make American participation probable in a war supporting the current government of Cambodia, headed by Premier Lon Nol.

The Senate amendment still to be scheduled for a vote would forbid spending on activities in support of Cambodian forces.

"The thrust of that amendment is to say that we shall not

'Arkie' Back Home After Victory Over West Coast's Frogs

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkie is home.

The champion frog, who leaped 14 feet, four inches, to win the governor's division at the Calaveras County, Calif., Frog Jumping Contest, returned to his home state Monday.

There had been reports that Arkie had been consigned to a pond at Angels Camp, Calif., after his stirring victory.

William C. Steed of San Francisco, Calif., Arkie's handler, said, however, that he got to the frog before Arkie was dumped into the pond.

Steed pooh-poohed some newsmen's concern that Arkie was not the genuine article.

"Oh, this is the same one," Steed said. "The Arkansas frogs are much bigger than the California variety, which are sort of puny."

Steed, a native of Conway, said the puminess of the California frogs is attributable to the hippy element. "They even have some hairy frogs out there," he said. "Unbe-

Israeli Are Driven Out of Lebanon

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Israeli troops crossed the Lebanese border Monday night for the second time in a day, but Lebanese troops drove them back across the frontier, a military communique in Beirut said today. Israel denied the report, saying no Israeli patrol crossed the border during the night.

The Lebanese said one of their officers was killed in the fighting at Marwahin, a few hundred yards from the border and 10 miles east of the Mediterranean. Israeli casualties were not mentioned.

Israeli forces crossed the border earlier Monday, sparking fears in Lebanon that a major invasion was under way. The Lebanese said the Israelis crossed the border with tanks and motorized infantry, but were stopped a mile from the border and driven back after four hours of fighting. One Lebanese was killed and six injured, the Lebanese said.

The Israelis said they sent two small units totaling 28 men and four tanks across the border on a hunt for Arab guerrillas. There was little firing and no Israeli casualties, a spokesman in Tel Aviv said.

More farmers fled from southern Lebanon, bringing the total of refugees from the south to 30,000, according to reports in Beirut newspapers. Government officials put the figure at 15,000.

Lebanese religious leaders called a general strike, accusing the Beirut government of negligence in protecting the south, and the strike appeared nearly 100 per cent effective in the capital. All shops were closed; dockworkers stood idle at the piers; municipal buses were not running; many large trading concerns did not open; newspapers did not publish; and all schools were closed.

Lebanon has been waiting nervously for more major Israeli moves in retaliation for an Israeli school bus last Friday. Twelve persons, mostly children, were killed in the attack. Shortly after the mortar and rocket attack, Israeli artillery shelled four Lebanese border villages in reprisal, killing 20 Lebanese and wounding 40.

Allied forces in Cambodia destroyed seven North Vietnamese supply trucks, seized a motor pool stocked with hundreds of accessories and uncovered eight more stockpiles of war materials and food, military spokesmen said.

Official sources reported the U.S. and South Vietnamese forces had taken enough rice from North Vietnamese and Viet Cong base camps in Cambodia to feed all of the 55,000 enemy troops operating in South Vietnam's 3rd Corps tactical zone for two months. This is the 10,000 square-mile zone that runs from the coast through Saigon to the Cambodian border and extends along the border for 231 miles.

Allied headquarters said 9,236 enemy troops have been killed in the Cambodian operations and 1,225 prisoners have been taken. Spokesmen said allied forces have captured or destroyed 15,484 weapons, more than 1,000 tons of ammunition, including nearly 14,000 rockets and mortar rounds, and more than 5,000 tons of rice and other food.

A revised report from South Vietnamese headquarters said 504 government troops had been killed and 2,173 wounded in Cambodia.

South Vietnamese headquarters also announced the end of a 16,000-man operation in the enemy's southernmost sanctuary in Cambodia, an eight-day drive west from the Mekong Delta along the Gulf of Siam coast.

A spokesman said the operation was ended so the troops could rest and renew their equipment. He said he anticipated a new operation would be launched from the western Mekong Delta soon into a different region of Cambodia.

Steed said Arkie's personality has not been altered a great deal by success, "but I believe he has a little more poise and self-assurance."

Steed also revealed that Arkie was "on the point of death" upon arrival in California, but patient medical attention brought him around to peak form.

"I used some auto-suggestive tapes while he was asleep to give him the will to survive," Steed said. "They said things like: 'You must live. Arkie, you must survive to leap for Arkansas.'"

"It really brought him around," Steed said.

Fortunately, he added, some time back he happened to decipher the "frog code, or dialect" of the Arkansas frogs.

Arkie was taken by Gary Thompson and Lee King, both of Loneoke, from the Roy Permitt property in Loneoke County, and the champion will be returned to the two youngsters.

Fishhook Fight One of Two

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops slashed into U.S. infantrymen in attacks 22 miles apart in Cambodia, killing eight of the Americans and wounding 35, the U.S. Command reported today. Enemy losses were not known.

The fighting raised American casualties in all Cambodian operations to 216 killed and 807 wounded, U.S. headquarters said. This was 15 more dead and 51 more wounded than the totals reported Monday.

A U.S. communique said American and South Vietnamese forces are encountering increased North Vietnamese activity in the Fishhook region of Cambodia north of Saigon.

Six Americans of the 25th Infantry Division were killed and 25 wounded in an hour-long fight before dawn two miles north of Mimot.

The Americans had bivouacked for the night, and the North Vietnamese struck with rifles, machine guns and rocket grenades. American gunships and artillery finally drove off the attackers.

On Monday, North Vietnamese soldiers ambushed a column of 25th Division troops 22 miles to the southeast, raking them with small arms fire. Two Americans were killed and 10 wounded in the 10-minute volley. Then the enemy withdrew.

South Vietnamese paratroopers to the east of the Americans were reported in sharp fighting Monday near Mimot. A U.S. medical evacuation helicopter trying to reach some of the wounded South Vietnamese was shot down, killing one American and wounding three.

South Vietnamese headquarters said at least six of the enemy were killed and three paratroopers wounded.

Two regiments of the North Vietnamese 7th Division are reported in the Mimot region after pulling back from South Vietnam during the first days of the American drive.
